the Institute, (c) the cordial consent of Professors of O. T. subjects, who live in the neighborhood, be previously obtained, (d) the Instructors be appointed by the Principal of Schools.

4. That (1) in view of the difficulty of persuading ministers to give their entire vacation of four weeks to the severe work of a Summer School, (2) in order to take away any occasion for men who have entered a School to leave before the final close of the exercises, (3) in order to make it possible for the Principal to attend as large a number of the Schools as possible, and yet to be present at those Schools from their beginning to the close, (4) in order to avoid the overlapping of Schools, and thus make it possible for men to take two or more consecutive Schools, if they are so inclined, and (5) in accordance with the opinion of the Instructors of last year's Schools, that each School be held during the coming summer eighteen full days, or three weeks instead of four weeks.

5. That since the original Endowment Fund becomes less and less each year, on account of the death, the failure, or the indifference of certain donors, the individual members of the Institute be urged to take a more active part in securing funds, to cover the expenses of the work now being carried on by the Institute.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM R. HARPER.
